

MARS COCOA SUPPLY CHAIN DISCLOSURE

TIER 2 Farmer Organizations 2025

Publication Date: September 2026

Mars is one of the largest buyers of cocoa and cocoa ingredients around the world. Depending on annual demand for our products, we source directly or through our suppliers between 350,000 to 400,000 metric tons of cocoa annually from countries including Brazil, Cameroon, Côte d'Ivoire, Colombia, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Ghana, Indonesia, Nigeria, Papua New Guinea, Peru, and the Philippines, with the majority coming from Côte d'Ivoire, Ecuador, and Ghana. The sourced cocoa is then used to produce the cocoa ingredients used in manufacturing our products.

In 2018, Mars launched its Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Program with the aim to have the volume of Responsibly Sourced Cocoa purchased under this program in 2025 be equivalent to the volume of cocoa ingredients used to manufacture our products in 2025. Since 2018, we have significantly increased the annual volume of Responsibly Sourced Cocoa purchased each year under this program. We are proud to report that our suppliers sourced a volume of Responsibly Sourced Cocoa in 2025 from farms participating in our Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Program (RSC Program) equivalent to 98% of the annual volume of cocoa and cocoa ingredients¹ that we used in manufacturing Mars branded products in 2025.

Because Mars sources cocoa on a mass balance basis in purchasing, processing, shipping and storing cocoa used in the ingredients of Mars products, Mars cannot guarantee that the cocoa in any specific product was purchased through its Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Program or was produced, delivered and sold in compliance with the Mars Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Specification. Read more about the Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Program and Mars Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Specification on the next page.

¹ This figure excludes the volume of cocoa ingredients used by licensees who are authorized to manufacture and sell products under one of our brands and cocoa ingredients used by businesses that we acquired within the current and prior two calendar years.

MARS COCOA SUPPLY CHAIN DISCLOSURE – TIER 2 2025

What is the Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Program?

When we refer to “Responsibly Sourced Cocoa”, we mean cocoa that has been produced, delivered and sold in compliance with the Mars Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Specification. This specification requires, among other things, that suppliers of cocoa have:

- Third-Party Verification: Independent third-party auditors review the cocoa supply chains of the suppliers and their farming organizations participating in the Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Program to determine whether they meet the certification standards of Rainforest Alliance, Fairtrade or another certification body approved by Mars or comply with the Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Specification.
- CLMRS: For high-risk origins in West Africa, suppliers must implement child labor monitoring and remediation systems (CLMRS) for any at-risk households of farmers who are participating in the Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Program.
- Polygon Mapping: Suppliers must polygon map the entire perimeter of the farms participating in the Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Program using GPS coordinates and be able to trace the cocoa produced on those farms to the first point of purchase of the cocoa by the suppliers.

Below are the Tier 2 Farmer Organizations who sold Responsibly Sourced Cocoa to Tier 1 Suppliers under our Responsibly Sourced Cocoa Program in 2025.
